PORTER & COATES' NEW PUBLICATIONS

THE GREAT BOOK OF POETRY FOR CHILDREN.

THE CHILDREN'S BOOK OF POETRY.

Edited by HENRY T. COATES. Nearly 200 illustrations. Cloth extra, black and gold, gilt sides and edges, $3; full turkey morocco, gilt edges, $7.50.

This work contains over 500 poems carefully selected from the works of the best and most popular writers for children. It is illustrated with nearly 200 engravings on wood from drawings by Gustave Doré, Millais, George H. Thomas, Harrison Weir, Giacomelli, and other distinguished artists. It is the most beautiful and the most complete work of the kind ever prepared for children.

A FASCINATING BOOK.

THE PREHISTORIC WORLD.

In three parts: I. The Parisians of the Stone Age. II. The Lacustrian City (Age of Polished Stone). III. The Foundation of Paris (Age of Metals). By ELIE BERTHET. Translated from the French by Mary J. Safford. Cloth extra, black and gold, $1.50.

"A more remarkable book has not appeared for a long time than 'The Prehistoric World,' by Elie Berthet. Compared with the fascinating but false extravaganzas in fiction of M. Jules Verne, this book of his gifted countryman is infinitely better; for it is the work of a sincere and patient scholar, who tells nothing improbable, and who has facts derived from mother earth herself as a basis for the stories he has so cleverly invented."—Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

ALL QUIET ALONG THE POTOMAC,

AND OTHER POEMS.

By ETHEL LYNN BEERS. 12mo, cloth extra, $1.75.

The poem which gives the name to this volume was one of the most popular lyrics of the late war; and many other poems contained in the book have had a high degree of popularity. This is the first collected edition of the poems of Ethel Lynn Beers, and many of them have never before been published.

WAVERLEY NOVELS, World Edition. Large 12mo, illustrated. Complete in twelve volumes. Price per set, $12.

DICKENS' WORKS, World Edition. Large 12mo, illustrated. Complete in seven volumes. Price per set, $8.75.

These are the cheapest and best editions of "Waverley" and "Dickens" in the market.

PORTER & COATES, Publishers, PHILADELPHIA.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have just ready "In Prison and Out," by Hesba Stretton, the author of "Through a Needle's Eye," etc., and who hardly needs an introduction. They also call attention to their new and cheap students' edition of Cruden's unabridged Concordance. They also have in press E. P. Roe's new book, "Without a Home."

PORTER & COATES have now ready "The Children's Book of Poetry," in which Mr. Henry T. Coates has made probably the most comprehensive collection of children's poetry extant. This contains over five hundred poems, and has besides nearly two hundred engravings on wood, so that it will be a delight and treasure to all the little people and to many big ones.

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. will have ready next week the three new volumes edited by Mr. Randolph out of the popular religious poems floating through the press, which he takes the pains to husband for readers who want them in permanent form. They are dainty little 18mos, in tasteful binding, at the price of 75 cents. "At the Beautiful Gate," "Unto the Desired Haven," and "The Palace of the King" are the several titles, and the three will also be issued as one volume.

CASSELL, PETTER, GALPIN & Co. are having notable success with their "Handy Commentary," which, in neat 12mo volumes, each provided with an admirable map, presents complete the individual books of the New Testament Commentary, edited by Bishop Ellicott. "St. Mark," "St. John," "The Acts," and "I. Corinthians" are already out, and "St. Matthew," which, with two of those named, is the work of Rev. Dr. E. H. Plumptre, now in this country, has just been revised by him for issue later in the fall, in time for use with the International Sunday-School Lessons of 1880.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will have ready next week one of the books which will notably claim a chief share of the attention of the literary world this fall—Bayard Taylor's posthumously published "Lectures on German Literature." These were delivered before Cornell University, and later in New York, and they have now been edited by Mrs. Taylor, herself a German and a German scholar, in association with Geo. H. Boker. The several chapters present the ripest thought of this great American-German on the leading representatives of the literature of the Fatherland.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. will send out this week the poems of F. O. Ticknor, M.D., who lived in Georgia during the war. At the time he wrote many war lyrics that were published in the papers and were extensively republished in England. Paul H. Hayne, who edits the work, in speaking of him, says that "he is one of the truest and sweetest poets the country has produced." The poems are now collected in book form for the first time. "The Cross," by Charles F. Richardson, will be ready about the same time. They have also just ready E. Marlitt's new novel, "In the Schillingscourt," translated by Mrs. A. F. Wister, whose work is becoming more and more acceptable.

HOUGHTON, OSGOOD & Co. publish this week, in addition to the books named in the last WEEKLY, a Household Edition of Mr. Emerson's famous collection of poetry, "Parnassus," and a Globe Edition of Cooper's complete works in sixteen volumes, which are offered in sets only at $16. This edition is substantially uniform with the Globe Dickens and Waverley, and is likely to share the same popularity. Next week they will bring out the third volume of Emerson's Prose Works, containing "Society and Solitude," "Letters and Social Aims," and "Fortune of the Republic;" the Fireside Hawthorne, complete in twelve volumes, uniform with the Fireside Emerson lately published, and an exquisite piece of book-making; Miss Jewett's "Old Friends and New," a Little Classic book of charming short stories; "First Principles of Household Management and Cookery," intended as a text-book in schools and families, a sensible and practical little book, by Maria Parloa, author of the celebrated "Appledore Cook-Book;" and Chaucer's Poems, in three volumes, in the Riverside Edition of British Poets, which will thus be completed in sixty-eight volumes. This edition of Chaucer has been prepared by Mr. Arthur Gilman, who has given to it the study of years, and has included in it the fruit of the Chaucer Society's researches; and he has made a better and more complete edition than has ever before been produced. It has a fine portrait and a full index.

AUCTION SALES.

October.—Regular fall parcel sale of books, to be open to the public as well as the trade. Invoices should be sent not later than October 1. Charges for selling 10 per cent, no charge for catalogue. Sale to take place latter part of October. Address W. O. Davis & Co., 16 E. 4th St., Cincinnati.

October 7, 3.30 P.M.—Books on genealogy; heraldry, Americana, local histories, etc.—Bangs.

November 10, and days following.—Regular fall parcel sale of English and American books, stationery, etc.—Bangs.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rules of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The notes followed by a number are those which are sent out on printed title-slips, as revised by the Library Association authorities; unless bracketed, which means that they have not yet been so revised. Those not followed by a number are on the sole authority of the WEEKLY, and are not included in the title-slip registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: Daniel; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

3 critical essays on the life, works, etc., of Carlyle, Tennyson, and Ruskin, originally published in the Literary World.

Beers, Ethel Lynn. All quiet along the Potomac, and other poems. Phil., Porter & Coates, [1879]. 352 p. D. cl., $1.75.

183 short poems, now for the first time coll., and originally contributed to Harper's Magazine and Weekly, and the N. Y. Ledger; mostly on domestic and pathetic subjects. "All quiet along the Potomac," which gives the title to the book, a picture of war-time, was copied in numerous papers and attributed to various authors, and also claimed by several; an explanatory note gives the history of the poem, and sets at rest all doubts of authorship.

Berthet, Élie. The prehistoric world; from the French by Mary J. Safford. Phil., Porter & Coates, [1879]. 310 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Three stories, illustrating three epochs in prehistoric times; in the descriptions of the inhabitants, manners, costumes, animals, etc., author uses latest discoveries of the scientists of all countries: The first tale, The Parisians of the stone age, is a study of the inhabitants of Parisian soil, who were contemporaries of the mammoth and cave-bear; in The Lacustrine city the action takes place several thousand years later, when man lived by tribes; the 3d, The foundation of Paris, is a study of the age of metals, and the mode of life of the Gallic nations several centuries before Cæsar's arrival in Gaul.

Bonar, Andrew A., D.D. The brook Besor: words for those who must tarry at home. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bros., 1880 [1879]. 105 p. T. cl., 50 c.

Refers to the brook Besor, mentioned in the Old Testament (1 Sam. xxx.), at which two hundred of David's men rested, being too weary to march on. Little book offers words of religious consolation to the sick, the frail, the aged, the blind and suffering, who love God and would serve him, but are too weak to labor.

Boyd, Pliny Steele. Up and down the Merrimac: vacation trip. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1879]. 185 p. il. S. (Idle hour ser.) pap., 50 c.

Description of a vacation trip made last season by the author and his two boys up and down the Merrimac River, in pursuit of fish and game; tells of the preparations for the voyage, the start, his companions, and the good times they had.

Scudder, S: H. Catalogue of scientific serials of all countries, incl. transactions of learned societies in the natural, physical and mathematical sciences, 1633-1876 (Library of Harvard Univ., special publications, 1.) Cambridge, Pub. by the Library, 1879. 12 + 158jp. O. cl., $4; printed on one side of leaf, $5.

Transactions are arranged primarily under the societies' titles, and these and the independent journals are entered alphabetically under the place of publication. The applied sciences are not included. The towns are again arranged alphabetically under the countries, which follow a geographical order. There are numerous cross-references and indexes of towns, titles and minor topics. The entries amount to about 6000, arranged under nearly 4500 numbers, the numbers attached to societies often embracing several distinct series, distinguished by letters. The most extensive previous list of periodicals was that prefixed to the first volume of the Royal Society's Catalogue of Scientific papers. This list commences with the present century only, but includes both pure and applied sciences, and contains about 1400 titles.

The Publishers' Weekly.

R. R. BOWKER, General Editor.

OCTOBER 4, 1879.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries." Notes from librarians will also be gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE RESULTS OF THE TRADE SALE.

THE fall trade sale concluded, as our reports show, late on Saturday, and, so far as this is "a thermometer of the trade," it indicates a reasonably promising condition of affairs for the fall. A noteworthy and pleasant feature of this sale was the large proportion of principals of houses who came together either as offerers or buyers. The tone of feeling was excellent throughout.

Several lists which have been represented for two or three seasons back, notably Harper's, Porter & Coates', and Peterson's, were "out" at this sale, and others of the invoices, as Houghton, Osgood & Co.'s, were not nearly so large as in old times. On the other hand, notably large lines were offered in other invoices, and of the cheap popular standards and poets, and the quarto juveniles, exceptional quantities were catalogued. In one or two cases, such lines were interpolated in the catalogue in other invoices.

The new books generally—those at least whose salableness is a matter of course—sold at pretty close or even up to regular trade rates, the extra time being the inducement to buyers. Notwithstanding good prices, comparatively few of these were duplicated—a sensible course, as these are the books which must sell, trade sale or not. In fact, such a course as that of Messrs. Roberts Bros., who announce "no duplicates" and hold to it, seems on the whole wise and just. The quantities offered are then known, and the first buyer, who bids on the supposition that only the specified number are forthcoming, can complain of no injustice.

There was of course the usual number of "plugs" offered, and they met the usual fate. Some of the less-known invoices did little better, and the slaughter on the Sadlier list, in particular, was terrific. Experience goes to show that such lines can be better disposed of at straight "clearance sales," which, when not associated with undercutting on new books and with chronic failures, are a desirable outlet for certain classes of books.

The middle class of books, the body of a publisher's list, which a bookseller should keep in stock, but often does not, fared on the whole well, and in placing these books, the trade sale fulfils its most satisfactory function. These books are such as are salable if they are kept before the public, and yet it is very difficult to induce dealers to buy them in regular bills.

Some excitement has been created since the sale by various rumors which the daily press has made the subject of interviews. The chronic allegation of a ring or "knock out" has been repeated—an allegation of course as difficult to disprove as to prove. This is one of the worst features of book auction sales in England, and the practice is simply an outrage and a swindle. We are quite sure it could not become countenanced here—especially by Messrs. Leavitt, the auctioneers, who mean to keep their business, so far as they can control it, above all imputation of the kind—and it is suggested that an indictment for conspiracy to defraud would hold against any member of such a ring. The essential principle of an auction is open and free competition, and any attempt at either "bidding up" or "knocking out" should be vigorously resented by the room. If any case should arise, it would be the duty of the auctioneers, we should say, to refuse to accept bids from such parties at future sales.

A difficulty arose at the Custom House as to some lines in Mr. Quaritch's consignment, which were held for appraisement and their valuation raised. The trade sale itself affords, in open competition, the best evidence of the market valuation, and when books are sold at above the invoice rate, the government is certainly entitled to the higher duty. But the rule does not seem to work both ways in the eyes of the Customs authorities, who will insist on valuing "plugs" in quantity at some relation to the retail price which they no longer bear. This has of late years had the effect of checking the offering of English invoices.

The alleged entry of dutiable books as free of duty (more than twenty years old) seems to centre in the Hogarth advertised in the catalogue as a revised, etc., etc., edition. The government has rightly enough taken the advertiser at his word, which may suggest that it is worth while to tell not merely a part of the truth in such cases. It is perhaps not generally known that the government had a representative at the sale to report prices to the appraisers.

It should be explained, in respect to another charge, that Mr. Quaritch had put a limitation on some of his books, contrary to custom, and that the auctioneers had not time to obtain its removal. It is almost needless to add that books should not be accepted under limitation, or else that the limitation should be clearly stated.

And now that the sale is over, the trade home, and the season well opened, let us hope for good work by the retailers, good sales and good profits.

THE TRADE SALE.

EIGHTH DAY.

AFTER finishing the remainder of Lee & Shepard's invoice, Collins & Brothers and Schafer & Koradi's invoices were sold to a small number of bidders at very low prices. Clark & Maynard's invoice found more present and realized good prices, the books averaging about half retail, some going beyond, N. P. Willis' poems being among them. The Masonic Publishing Co.'s invoice went low. Sheldon & Co.'s invoice started fair, the books generally going at half off, often above and seldom below. The juveniles by Abbott, Arthur, Dr. Eddy, Sarah Lander, etc., brought satisfactory prices. The school-books, with some exceptions, brought within ten per cent of the wholesale prices. Before lunch J. H. Bufford's Sons' invoice was sold at low figures, owing no doubt to the change in the programme; their invoice was not expected until the afternoon, and many bidders who would have taken part in their sale were absent on that account.

After lunch Dick & Fitzgerald's invoice was disposed of at good prices for the bidders. The speakers and reciters, dialogue-books, amateur theatricals, home amusements, and fortune-tellers and dream-books brought half off.

William T. Amies invoice was reached about four o'clock in the afternoon. A goodly number was present and bidding was quite lively. The popular and pretty editions of Lamb, Montaigne, Lane's Arabian Night's, Shakespeare, Lord Byron, and Thomas Moore fetched good price, and were extensively duplicated. His Bibles also sold well, but the albums went low. Before closing up for the night, the two invoices following were sacrificed.

NINTH DAY.

In view of a long siege the sale was started promptly at nine o'clock, with a large number present. Thompson, Brown & Co.'s invoice, consisting principally of juveniles in sets, was quickly disposed of at good prices. S. W. Tilton & Co.'s, and John Allyn's invoices did not do as well. Henry A. Young & Co.'s invoice, with exception of a few later publications, sold low. The invoices of the Home Book and Publishing Co., Russell & Banks, Burlock &

Co., A. S. Barnes & Co., James A. Moore, E. B. Treat, Jones Brothers & Co., and H. J. Fisher, were almost slaughtered. The National Publishing Co.'s books fetched better prices, but it was evident that more blood was wanted. Ira Bradley & Co.'s games were bargains, as were also the invoices of blank-books, etc., offered by Francis & Loutrel and A. W. Stuart.

Jas. S. Virtue's invoice sold low. The prices realized for the sheets and plates of both this firm and Donnelly, Gassette & Loyd, and Horace Wentworth, were considered to be satisfactory. We give below a list of the plates sold, and the names of parties purchasing them.

- WATERS, T. Recollections of a policeman. Plates to Estes & Lauriat, Bost.
- WHITMAN, WALT. Leaves of grass. Plates to R. Worthington, N. Y.

The plates of the Home Book & Publishing Co. were not sold. S. E. Cassino and J. W. Bouton's invoices sold at excellent prices. Marcus Ward & Co. offered a large line of juvenile and educational books, which fetched fair prices. Macmillan & Co. offered several new books, among them 7000 of Dickens' "Dictionary of London," in paper, which went low. Some dissatisfaction arose among the buyers during the sale of Henry Sotheran & Co.'s and Bernard Quaritch's invoices because a number of fine works were withdrawn, and others seemingly "bid in." After the withdrawal of Landseer's "Etchings of Carnivorous Animals," a prominent buyer protested. It was explained that some of the imported books had been detained at the Custom House for reappraisal, and the auctioneers did not feel justified in sacrificing them pending the readjustment. This was not satisfactory to the bidder, who immediately left. The sale closed with the large invoice of the remainders of the publications of Colton, Zahn & Roberts, art publishers, of New York.

BOOKS IMPORTED BY MAIL.

THE appended circular of instructions as to importations through the mail has been issued by the Treasury Department:

1879.—Department No. 140.—Secretary's Office.—Circular.—Importations through the Mail.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 13, 1879.

To Collectors of Customs and others:

The fourth paragraph of the instructions of the Postmaster-General, dated the 16th of May last embodied in this Department's order of the 26th of May, 1879 (Synopsis 4027), relative to importations through the mails, reads as follows:

"Unsealed packages received in the mails from foreign countries, which are found on examination by customs officers to contain articles liable to customs duties, shall be delivered by the postmaster at the exchange office of receipt to the proper officer of customs for the collection of the duties chargeable thereon, with notice of such delivery to the person addressed."

It has been suggested by the Postmaster-General that the following instructions should be added to the paragraph, viz.:

"But books received from countries or colonies of the Universal Postal Union, which are found to be dutiable, shall, when addressed to post-offices other than the exchange office of receipt, be promptly transmitted by mail to the addressees, charged with the amount of customs duties levied thereon, respectively; which amounts postmasters at the offices of destination will collect of the addressees on their delivery, and remit by first mail thereafter to the Collector of the Customs of the district in which the exchange post-office of receipts is situated; and in case of the refusal or neglect of addressees of such dutiable books to apply for them at the post-office of destination within a period of thirty days from the date of their receipt at said office, and pay the customs duties and any postage charges levied thereon, the postmaster of said office will specially return the same to the Collector of the Customs of the aforementioned district."

"Postmasters are instructed to collect the customs duties on such books forwarded to their offices for delivery to addressees, and promptly remit the sums so collected by them to the Collectors of the Customs, in the manner prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury; but the postal revenues are not in any manner to be credited or charged with such duties."

The suggestion meets with the approval of this Department, and the instructions contained in the amendment will be observed by officers of the customs. A record of the addressess and office of destination of each package, and of the amount of duties due thereon, will be kept, and on the receipt of the duties or return of the package the fact will be recorded. A certificate in the form appended hereto, showing the amount of duties due, will be attached to each package for the information of the postmaster, who, in his letter forwarding the duties, should refer to such certificate by mentioning the number, date, amount, and the name of the party addressed specified therein. Printed blanks will be furnished by the Department. This order will take effect on the first proximo. JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary.

MORE ABOUT THE FRAUDS.

SINCE the exposure of "Mrs. Adelaide Gray," Wright's Grove, Ill., in the issue of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for September 6th, we have heard of several cases in which this ingenuous and ingenious person has swindled other members of the trade in like manner. The latest case is that of Mr. F. W. Christern, who forwarded a copy of Schiller's Works, which—and this is the remarkable part of it—has just been returned to him by express. It is presumed that the swindler has been somewhat disconcerted by the exposure, and seeks thus to evade the consequences. We offer the suggestion that swindles of this sort should be at once reported to the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and that, in any case hereafter, measures should be promptly taken by those victimized to make an example of the swindler.

An interesting example of the specimen copy dodge came to light some time since in connection with Mr. Leypoldt's Index Medicus. In January there came from W. W. S. Watson, M.D., New Holland, Ill., the usual request; the next month came from the same place a request for a specimen copy, "the February number," signed by Watson & McKennan, Druggists; the next, a fresh demand signed "Mrs. M. A. Watson." The handwriting was not the same in all these cases, but in each the address was to "Parke Row, New Yorke City." The third regular instalment was not sent, and since then nothing has been heard. A little vigilance of precaution and vigor of punishment, in punishable cases, will soon check these petty swindles.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

WILKIE COLLINS has been writing a new novel, to be called "Jezebel's Daughter."

It is reported that Mr. Pierce will go on at once with his biography of Charles Sumner.

SIR ROWLAND HILL left behind him a detailed autobiography which has been lying in ms. for several years. No announcement of its publication has, however, yet been made.

THE TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

THE Trade List Annual is now before the trade in its usual goodly proportions. There are, in all, contributions from 143 dealers this year, as against 117 last—a decided advance, although the omission of four large lists, those of Lothrop, Peterson, Routledge, and Sadlier, two of which were omitted because of lack of time to prepare them in season for the Annual, makes the volume but little heavier than last year. Mr. Steiger makes an exceptionally valuable contribution, in a really representative list of standard German books and periodicals, especially suitable for use in this country. The prefatory list matter has never been so complete, but in relation to this Mr. Leypoldt's preface speaks for itself:

"The Annual for 1879, includes in addition to the regular Annual Reference List (in which the publications of the past year are arranged in one alphabet under author, title, and subject) and the new Educational Catalogue (now comprising a single alphabet of authors, with a subject-index appended), 1, a Classified Summary of the Reference List, and 2, an Order List of the books issued from January to August of this year by the publishers represented in this Annual, arranged under these publishers' names.

"The Classified Summary will do for the class what the subject-entries in the Reference List do for individual subjects or topics; with the difference that it groups, under more general headings, the various subjects belonging to the same class. It will show booksellers dealing chiefly in certain lines of books the latest issues in those departments, and it will enable the general dealer to post his customers as to what is new in their specialties. The classification or division into departments has been made rather practical than scientific, corresponding to the shelf-arrangement of a well-regulated bookstore; and for practical purposes these classes are arranged alphabetically as being better understood than any logical system. Compactness being an essential feature for a rapid survey, only the clue is given in the Classified Summary where there are several works on the same subject in the Reference List.

"The Order List is on the same plan as that in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, consisting of the list of new books of each publisher with their prices, entered as briefly as possible. It shows at a glance the issues of each house, and, as its name indicates, is intended primarily as a basis for ordering.

"These two additional features are given in place of the partial index suggested in the previous Annual. That index it is the province of the American Catalogue and of its supplements to supply. The Annual matter should be annual. And it is more and more the opinion of the editor that the trade will be better served and better satisfied the more clearly the distinction between these two works is preserved and recognized. The Annual is chiefly for the year, intended at the best only for temporary use. The American Catalogue and its supplements, covering greater extents of time, are to serve for permanent use. Prepared on a more comprehensive scale than is practicable for the annual indexes, covering more ground and including the books of publishers whose lists it is hardly possible to obtain for the Annual, the Catalogue is the real Finding List, the Annual remaining the daily Order List.

"The first (author-and-title) volume of the American Catalogue is now completed. The second (subject) volume will be ready within a year, and the first supplement bringing the work down to date will almost immediately follow that; so that in a comparatively short time the trade will have their tools complete; their complete and general index in the American Catalogue, their yearly reference and order lists in the Annual. F. LEYPOLDT."

AN IMPORTANT AMERICAN ENTERPRISE.

IN regard to the enlarged and revised edition of Andrews' "Latin Dictionary," in press by Harper & Bros., much of which has been rewritten by Charlton T. Lewis and Professor Charles Short, of Columbia College, the following interesting statement is made: "It was seen fifteen years ago that at least a very thorough revision of the lexicon was needed. It was, therefore, submitted to the author of the original work, Dr. William Freund, who carefully revised it, rewrote a few of the less satisfactory articles, corrected errors, and supplied about two thousand additions, mainly in the early pages. The sheets were then placed in the hands of Professor Henry Drisler, LL.D., to be edited. But that eminent scholar soon advised us that a reconstruction of the work was desirable, such as he could not command leisure to make. They were afterward delivered to the present editors, to be used freely and in combination with all other appropriate sources in compiling a Latin dictionary which shall meet the advanced requirements of the times." It is a decided compliment to American scholarship that this work is to be issued as the standard authority by the Clarendon Press at Oxford. In reference to this the Athenaeum says: "Though Dr. Andrews' book has been the standard work of reference for a generation of scholars, the great advances lately made in the sciences on which lexicography depends rendered a complete revision, and indeed reconstruction, quite necessary. The present work is the result of the unremitting labors of its editors for several years, and will be found fully abreast of modern philological and archæological research. The need for such a dictionary has been so long felt that its appearance cannot but be hailed with satisfaction by all scholars and students, and not the less that it is one of the most important American contributions to scholarship that we have yet seen."

HUMORS OF THE TRADE.

THE preface to Mark Twain's latest book says: "Written by one loafer for another loafer to read."

SEPTEMBER 25, 1879.

DEAR PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY:

I see in your valuable paper an advertisement (folio 365) of the "Oxford Teachers' Bible," and among the announcements I note that "special attention" is called to "The 'Thin' Teachers' Bible." May I ask you for information as to the limit—avoidupois—before one will be debarred from the privilege of purchasing one of these? Do they measure the chest or the ankle?

Yours truly, A. D.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

BANGS & Co. announce their regular fall parcel sale for the second week in November, when books, stationery, etc., will be offered with especial reference to the holiday trade. Invoices should be furnished by Oct. 10th.

A. S. BARNES & Co. will issue immediately "Ancient and Mediæval Republics," with a review of the causes of their decline and fall, by Henry Mann.

A NEW revised and enlarged edition of the poems of Arthur Hugh Clough is in preparation at Henry Holt & Co.'s. Charles Eliot Norton has written for it a memoir of Clough.

MISS THACKERAY will write the volume on Mmes. De Sevigné and De Staël for the series of Foreign Classics for English Readers, now issuing in this country by J. B. Lippincott & Co.

THE AUTHORS' PUBLISHING CO. have just ready a new novel by Sanford, entitled "Berrisford," and a new juvenile, "Kinfolk," in their pretty Enchanted Library for Young Folks.

D. APPLETON & Co. announce for early publication a new edition of J. Fenimore Cooper's novels in sixteen 12mo volumes at $1 each. Each volume will be illustrated by four steel plates from drawings by F. O. C. Darley.

M. F. NORTON, designer and engraver, 120 Wooster Street, desires to call the attention of publishers and others to his increased and excellent facilities for furnishing designs for covers, dies, and bookbinders' brass stamps.

PROF. JUSTIN WINSOR'S "Reader's Hand-book of the American Revolution," in press by Houghton, Osgood & Co., will be followed by similar hand-books by him, or under his editorship, should the undertaking prove a commercial success.

FORDS, HOWARD & HULBERT have now ready the new novel by Judge Tourgee, "Figs and Thistles," which, having for its hero a young Westerner who rises through an army career to Congressional honors, has many elements of political as well as general interest, and with it the new edition of his previous book, "Toinette." "A Fool's Errand," which was expected before this, will appear shortly.

J. M. STODDART & Co. are doing well with Willis P. Hazard's new work, "How to Select Cows." It is the Guenon system simplified, explained, and practically applied, with nearly one hundred illustrations, photographed from Guenon's illustrations. Mr. Hazard is the president of the Chadd's Ford Farmers' Club, and is considered an authority on all that relates to fine stock. The book is bound in two styles, cloth and paper.

MACMILLAN & Co. have in preparation for their Golden Treasury Series a volume of "Selections from Addison," edited with an Introduction by Mr. John Richard Green. Mr. Green has by no means confined his choice to the well-known Spectator Essays, but has gone carefully through everything that Addison wrote, and picked out those productions which are most attractive either for grace of style or for interest of subject. The different essays will be grouped in subjects, such as "Sir Roger de Coverley," "Humors of the Town," "Humors of the Country," etc.

THE recent Literary World has an interesting paper on the various book clubs of the country, in connection with which it says: "Publishers have nothing to fear, but much to gain from the multiplication of book clubs. They must inevitably increase, not abridge, the sale of books. This effect they will produce by creating a demand where now no demand exists. There are thousands and thousands of persons who through the agency of book clubs might be made coöperative purchasers of books, who now never enter the market at all. By all means let there be a book club in every town where there is no public library."

BRIG.-GEN. GEO. W. WINGATE, general Inspector of Rifle Practice, N. Y. S. M., whose "Manual of Rifle Practice" is well known, has issued a brochure showing that the new U. S. Army Manual has been made up at wholesale from his own book, although in transmitting the work to the War Department the Chief of Ordinance said: "In the preparation of this work all the credit is due to Colonel Laidley." He gives parallel quotations to show that out of 515 sections and 18 pages of appendix about 200 sections and nearly all of 17 pages of the new book are taken from his own, and certainly some apology seems needed from the government.

JANSEN, McCLURG & Co. will issue immediately, "The Life of Benedict Arnold; his Patriotism and his Treason," by Hon. Isaac N. Arnold, president of the Chicago Historical Society, and author of "The Life of Abraham Lincoln." This work is stated to be full of new facts, now first given to the public. Manuscripts from the family of Arnold in England and in Canada have enabled the author to make new contributions to Revolutionary history of great interest. The author does not to any extent excuse Arnold's treason, but aims to do full justice to him as a soldier and a patriot. The same firm have in press a new juvenile from the pen of Mrs. Caroline F. Corbin, author of "Rebecca; or, A Woman's Secret," called "Belle and the Boys," a story of a young girl's experience in managing two lively and mischievous boys during a six months' absence of their mother. "Ingersoll and Moses," a reply by Rev. Samuel Ives Curtiss, D.D., Professor of Old Testament Literature and Interpretation in Chicago Theological Seminary, is another forthcoming book from this house.

T. WHITTAKER promises a number of attractive books for old and young; foremost on the list is "The Shakespeare Birthday Book," edited by Mary F. P. Dunbar, an illustrated gift-book that has long been popular in England, and gone through many editions; "Simple Lessons for Home Use," a series of papers on cookery, manners, what to wear, needlework, etc., is a popularly written home book on points every housekeeper should know; and "The Faith of Our Forefathers," a theological work by the Rev. E. J. Stearns. For the young there is quite a list of illustrated story books: "Stories for the Happy Days of Christmas Time," by the Rev. Geo. W. Shinn; "Mary Mordaunt; or, Faithful in the Least," a story of every-day life, by Annie Gray; "Vain Ambition; or, Only a Girl," by Emma Davenport; "Nuts for Christmas Cracking," by Theresa Oakey Hall, a holiday book for boys and girls; "Angelo and Stella," a story of Italian fisher life, by Gerald

S. Davies; "Pictures for the Little Ones," an illustrated book with stories. And, in sets, "Boys' and Girls' Treasury," 6 vols., by Lucy Ellen Guernsey; Daisy Library, 10 vols., by Emma Marshall, Miss Guernsey, and others; The Peep of Day Library, 4 vols.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY have now ready quite a long list of new illustrated holiday juveniles, and new issues of old and well-known favorites; their "Chatterbox for 1879-1880," "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year," "Boys' own Stories," "Gem of all Picture-books," "Girls' own Stories," and "Sunbeams for Baby Days," with a new edition of the "Queen of Picture-books," are the most important of their new announcements, followed by a crowd of little books in large type with numerous pictures, such as "Christmas Treasures for Boys and Girls," "Little Tot's Treasury of Pictures and Stories," "Sunshine for Dull Days," "Snowflake's Pleasure-book," "Glimpses into Pet-Land," "Happy Boys' Story-book," "Little Bo-Peep Story-book," etc., etc. They have also issued in their Excelsior Edition of standard juvenile fiction a number of new volumes, printed from new electrotype plates, of standard works. "Ivanhoe," "Children of the Abbey," "The Scottish Chiefs," "Thaddeus of Warsaw," "Treasures from Fairy-Land," are already out, and new editions are forthcoming of "Robinson Crusoe," "Arabian Nights," "Don Quixote," "Gulliver's Travels," "Swiss Family Robinson," and "The Pilgrim's Progress."

MISS BRADDON'S thirty-fifth novel, "The Cloven Foot," is just out in London.

SAMPSON, LOW & CO. publish, for use in England, no less than twenty-four school and college text-books by American authors—including the works of Profs. Dana, Gray, Hadley and March, Pres. Woolsey, Hon. Geo. P. Marsh and Mr. T. W. Higginson. A good showing!

MESSRS. BICKERS & SON, London, have in press a new work illustrative of the time of Charles II., entitled "Pepys and His Times," by Mr. Henry B. Wheatley. The same publishers are preparing new editions of Mrs. Cowden Clarke's "Concordance to Shakspeare" and "Girlhood of Shakspeare's Heroines."

It is expected to open this month the magnificent new building of the "Cercle de la Librairie," the organization of the book trade of Paris. It is already completed, at the corner of the Rue Gregoire de Tours and the Boulevard Saint Germain. A colored porcelain frieze runs above the upper story, and has on it the names of Guttenberg, Mongolfier, Senefelder, etc.

PROFESSOR WHITNEY'S "Comparative Sanskrit Grammar" will presently appear in the series of Comparative Grammars at Leipzig. It is to be hoped that others will follow in the course of the next year. The following professors have undertaken parts of this interesting series: Prof. Hübschmann the Zend Grammar; Prof. Gustav Meyer the Greek; Prof. Bücheler the Latin; Prof. Windisch the Celtic; Prof. Leskien the Slavonic; and Prof. Sievers the Teutonic. The introduction to the last, with the title of "Lautlehre," appeared in 1876.

THE Athenæum states that the magnificent library of the late Mr. Henry Huth will be withdrawn from sale, and will be kept intact by Mr. H. A. Huth. This announcement will be hailed with satisfaction by literary men and bibliographers, as it will be one of the few choice collections of books of which the contents will be known through a sufficiently descriptive catalogue. The catalogue is now in a very forward state, but it will probably not be issued quite so soon as was expected, in consequence of the new arrangement with regard to the library.

MESSRS. W. & A. K. JOHNSTON, Edinburgh and London, have issued a large-size diagram, with revolving disk, showing at a glance the differences in time of upward of 200 places in all parts of the world. The five great divisions of the globe, occupying the arc of the equator, are distinguished by colors, and the name of every capital and important town is given. The chief towns and seats of commerce in the colonial possessions of England, France, Holland, Spain, Portugal, and Denmark are distinguished by appropriate colors. The chart is strongly mounted on thick cardboard, and is equally useful for school purposes, or for public or mercantile offices having foreign correspondence.

CLASSICAL WRITERS. Edited by John Richard Green.

MILTON. By Stopford A. Brooke. 16mo, 168 pages, cloth, price 60 cents.

Under the title of "Classical Writers" Messrs Appleton & Co. have begun the issue of a series of small volumes upon some of the principal classical and English writers whose works form subjects of study in our colleges, or which are read by the general public. Care is taken to impart information in a thorough and systematic way, while an intelligent interest in the writers and their works is sought to be aroused by a clear and attractive style of treatment. The following volumes are in preparation: Of the ancients—EURIPIDES, HERODOTUS, DEMOSTHENES, SOPHOCLES, VIRGIL, HORACE, CICERO, LIVY; of the moderns—BACON, SPENSER, CHAUCER. Others will follow.

IV.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF ENGLISH Literature. The Old English Period. By Brother Azarias, Professor of English Literature in Rock Hill College, Maryland. 1 vol., 12mo, 214 pages, cloth, price $1.25.

V.

THE LIFE OF HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS the Prince Consort. By Theodore Martin. With portraits. Vol. IV. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, price $2.

VI.

THE DATA OF ETHICS. Being the First Part of the "Principles of Morality." By Herbert Spencer. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, 288 pages, price $1.30.

"Mr. Spencer's main purpose is to ascertain and describe the objective qualities of right conduct, the external signs of the highest virtue, and to show their coincidence with the results of progressive evolution. This he has done in the course of the profound and exhaustive analysis, of which he is so consummate a master, of vigorous but singularly lucid reasonings, and of ample and impressive illustrations from every department of nature."—N. Y. Tribune.

VII.

FREEDOM IN SCIENCE AND TEACHING. From the German of Ernst Haeckel. With a Prefatory Note by T. H. Huxley, F.R.S. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, price $1.60.

VIII.

EARLY CHRISTIAN LITERATURE Primers. Edited by Professor George Park Fisher, D.D. THE APOSTOLIC FATHERS AND THE APOLOGISTS. A.D. 95-180. By the Rev. George A. Jackson. 16mo, cloth, price 60 cents.

The "Early Christian Literature Primers" will embody, in a few small and inexpensive volumes, the substance of the characteristic works of the great Fathers of the Church. The plan recognizes four groups of works, embraced in four books. In the first book are given exact translations of the principal works of the Apostolic Fathers and the Apologists, preceded by introductions upon the writings of the period, and by sketches of the several authors. Nearly every known author of the period is mentioned, and his place pointed out.

IX.

EPIPHANIES OF THE RISEN LORD. By George Dana Boardman, D.D., author of "The Creative Week" and "Studies in the Model Prayer." 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, price $1.25.

X.

THE "SPECTATOR." A new edition, carefully revised. With Prefaces, Historical and Biographical, by Alexander Chalmers, A.M. In 6 vols., 8vo, cloth, price $12.

This is an édition de luxe of the Spectator, being printed in large type, on choice paper, in perfect style, and bound in vellum cloth, with gilt top, after the manner now so popular with standard books.

XI.

THE RUSSIAN ARMY AND ITS CAMPAIGNS in Turkey in 1877-78. By F. V. Greene, First Lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, and lately Military Attaché to the U. S. Legation at St. Petersburg. 1 vol., 8vo, cloth, with Atlas containing 26 plates of Maps, Plans, etc., printed (with a few exceptions) in colors, price $6.

XII.

ANALYSIS OF THE URINE. With special reference to the Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs. By K. B. Hofmann, Professor in the University of Grätz, and R. Ultzmann, Docent in the University of Vienna. Translated by T. Barton Brune, A.M., M.D., and H. Holbrook Curtis, Ph.B. 1 vol., 8vo, cloth, 269 pages, with colored plates, price $2.

The merit of the work is sufficiently attested by the popularity it enjoys in Germany and Austria, and the fact of its having appeared in three languages during the year of its publication.

The colored plates which appear with the translation are not given in the German edition. They were taken from Ultzmann and Hofmann's "Physiological and Pathological Atlas," and from photographs furnished by Dr. Ultzmann, under whose supervision the translators have performed their task.

XIII.

New Revised Edition.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON MATERIA Medica and Therapeutics. By Roberts Bartholow, M.A., M.D., LL.D., Professor of Materia Medica and General Therapeutics in the Jefferson College of Philadelphia, etc. Third edition, revised. 8vo, 595 pages, price, extra cloth, $5; sheep, $6.

For sale by all Booksellers. Any volume sent by mail, post-paid, to any address in the United States, on receipt of price.

HOUGHTON, OSGOOD & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

PUBLISHED TO-DAY.

The Bodleys Afoot.

A fresh "Bodley" book, by the author of all the other popular Bodley books. Profusely illustrated with charming pictures, and ornamented with covers that are attractive outside and inside. One volume, 4to, $1.50.

This book is likely to continue the happy popularity of the "Bodley" books. It relates the adventures of the Bodleys while going afoot from Boston to New York, and mingles interesting stories, curious facts of history, pleasant poem and plenty of good humor. "The Bodleys Afoot" will surely be in great demand for the holidays.

The Little Classics.

A new edition of the original Little Classics, in eight volumes, 16mo. Uniform with the "Riverside Classics." Sold only in sets. $12.

A very desirable edition of this widely popular series of short stories, sketches, and poems.

The Globe Cooper.

The Works of JAMES FENIMORE COOPER. New Globe Edition, uniform with the Globe Waverley and Dickens. Sold only in sets. Sixteen volumes, 16mo, $16.

Parnassus—Household Edition.

A new edition of this notable volume of poetry, selected and edited, with a Preface, by Mr. Emerson. It is uniform in style with the Household Whittier, Holmes, etc. One volume, 12mo, $2.

Breathings of the Better Life.

Edited by LUCY LARCOM. A new, revised, and enlarged edition of this sterling book. "Little Classic" style. Price reduced to $1.25.

Tales of a Grandfather.

By Sir WALTER SCOTT. New edition, uniform with the Illustrated Library Waverley. Three volumes, crown 8vo, $4.50.

READY SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11th.

The Poetical Works of Geoffrey Chaucer.

Edited, with a Memoir, by ARTHUR GILMAN. Riverside Edition. Uniform with and completing the Riverside British Poets. With Portrait. Three volumes, crown 8vo, $5.25.

Chaucer now for the first time appears in this standard edition of the British Poets. Mr. Gilman has embodied, in the text and notes of these volumes, the researches of years, the fruits of the Chaucer Society's labors, and has produced a far better edition of this old English poet than any edition yet brought out in England. A full index adds greatly to its completeness.

Old Friends and New.

By SARAH O. JEWETT, author of "Deephaven" and "Play Days." "Little Classic" style. One volume, 18mo, $1.25.

A collection of short stories and sketches, describing interesting or singular characters and modes of life so skilfully, yet so simply and naturally, as to engage the reader's attention profoundly and delightfully.

First Principles of Household Management and Cookery.

A Text-book for Schools and Families. By MARIA PARLOA. Flexible cloth, 75 cents.

An admirably practical little book which discusses in a very clear and simple style matters of the first importance in regard to making homes healthy and securing wholesome food. Miss Parloa's name guarantees its excellence.

Emerson's Prose Works, Vol. III.

Including "Society and Solitude," "Letters and Social Aims," and "Fortune of the Republic." Uniform with the two volumes of Emerson's Prose Works previously published, and with those comprising all of Mr. Emerson's prose writings that he has yet put out in book form. 12mo, $2.50. The three volumes, $7.50.

This edition meets quite exactly the demand for a compact, tasteful, but not too costly issue of Mr. Emerson's works—larger than the "Little Classic" edition, but in volumes of attractive size and form.

Fireside Edition of Hawthorne.

Uniform with the Fireside Edition of Emerson. Complete in twelve volumes, 16mo. Each volume has two beautiful vignette illustrations. Sold only in sets. $20.

 For sale by all booksellers. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price by the Publishers.

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

By F. A. P. BARNARD, S.T.D., LL.D.,

PRESIDENT OF COLUMBIA COLLEGE, NEW YORK CITY; PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN METRIC BUREAU, AND OF THE AMERICAN METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY.

NEW EDITION.

Three times the original matter, with index of two thousand references.

The last edition (1872) has, up to this time, been recognised as the most complete authority. The last seven years have been full of metric progress throughout the world. The author has now tripled the matter by including everything to date necessary to the most thorough discussion of the metric question now prominently before Congress and the public. The voluminous index makes it a complete metric cyclopædia, indispensable to every student; its style makes it the most entertaining to the general reader. To secure its wide circulation, the educational society for introducing the system into the United States, with funds subscribed by friends of the metric system, has arranged to offer this edition at one fifth the rate charged for the original work, of about one third the matter, and sold at $3. The society will also pay one half this expense for lots of five to be given away in the interests of reform and not sold.

The society wishes the co-operation of the trade in distributing metric publications, and has voted to allow dealers to sell all the best metric books at half publisher's prices, and also to allow them twenty per cent commission for so doing. Send for special list of metric publications sold under this offer. Also metric weights, measures, charts, and apparatus for teaching. Placards, price-lists, etc., furnished free.

Price, $1.50. Sent postpaid, by mail, for $1.70.

If not found at the bookstores, address the Society,
